Cristina Repeti, Meryl Hare & Lucy Carroll, HARE & KLEIN, WOOLLOOMOOLOO, NSW

The aptly named Saddle House “required an approach that was highly durable and devoid of the superfluous while expressing the personality of the owners and creating a welcoming new home”. Minimal at a glance, this clean yet striking zone is a considered and quintessentially contemporary Australian design. Hardy yet comfortable furniture choices made to survive the elements furnish the open terrace that looks out to the sweeping ‘saddle’ of the surrounding landscape. hareklein.com.au.

45 RURAL RETREAT

Lucy Carroll, Meryl Hare & Cristina Repeti, HARE + KLEIN, WOOLLOOMOOLOO, NSW

This home in NSW's Hunter Valley was designed with the distinct colours of the surrounding landscape in mind. Materials were chosen for their robust qualities, creating a durable array of furnishings. “A wool and hemp custom rug based on the scribbly bark tree is the foundation of the main living area – with an artisan coffee table constructed from salvaged telegraph poles surrounded by the earthy tones of fabric, steel and leather.” The gentle textures allow a stone feature wall above the fireplace to take centre stage, completing the refined rural aesthetic. hareklein.com.au.
